

Welcome to our mountain hut

Many years ago the grandmother of the „Tschötscherhof“ sit every summer at the Puflatsch in this mountain hut with a hoard of grandchildren at her feet and offered the passing hikers fresh milk, a glass of schnapps, and carefully prepared cheese sandwiches.

We would like to follow her now with the same passion – developing a close collaboration between the region's agriculture and the tourism sector.

rustic

The old farmhouse parlour is more than 150 years old and comes from Val Pusteria. This special wood spreads a very pleasant and cosy atmosphere.

Using a professional mixture of traditional and modern style and the combination of the old wood from local forests with natural stone and glass create this special alpine flair

authentic

Food should be consumed there where it is grown and harvested – according to this principle we are buying food, ingredients and drinks from local farmers of the area.
